MURDER TRIAL

Man 'strangled ex-girlfriend until she thought she would die'

• Victim: Jayden Parkinson

AN EX-GIRLFRIEND of the man accused of murdering Didcot teenager Jayden Parkinson broke down in the dock as she told a jury he had strangled her so hard she thought he was going to kill her.

Ben Blakeley killed his 17-year-old ex-girlfriend Jayden and buried her in his uncle's Didcot grave last year.

The 22-year-old, of Christchurch Road, Reading, pleaded not guilty to murder but has admitted manslaughter.

Another former girlfriend – who he was seeing at the same time as Jayden - gave evidence at the trial yesterday.

Sarah Rees, 22, from Didcot, cried as she told Oxford Crown Court Blakeley had pinned her to the wall or the bed by her throat multiple times.

She said: "I felt like he was going to kill me, he was pushing it to the extreme and I couldn't breathe.

"I tried to push him off me but I couldn't, he was too strong."

By Katriona Ormiston
katriona@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A post-mortem into Jayden's death revealed she died from pressure to the neck.

Jayden was found in a grave at All Saints' Church in Didcot on December 11 eight days after she went missing.

She was killed in the countryside south of Didcot.

On Tuesday Oxford Crown Court heard evidence from Hannah Ryan, a support worker at the Iffley Road homeless hostel One Foot Forward where Jayden was staying.

Ms Ryan said she helped Jayden take a pregnancy test and call Blakeley to tell him he was the father on December 2 last year – the day before she went missing.

Ms Ryan told the jury Jayden repeated what Blakeley said on the phone for her to hear.

Ms Ryan said: "She was saying, 'What? If I'm pregnant you are going to push me off a bridge? You're going to push me off a bridge?'

"If you lay a finger on me I will go to the police."

The pair had broken up on November 21.

Jayden filed a formal complaint to police on November 27 saying she was "terrified" because Blakeley threatened to post naked photos and videos of her on the Internet.

Her statement written the week before she died told police Blakeley said: "When you and everybody else sees them on Facebook I hope you kill yourself and jump off a bridge."

In the weeks before, Ms Ryan told the court Blakeley had forbidden Jayden to use the toilets, showers, or kitchen at the hostel until he visited.

She said Jayden told her it was painful because she had to stop herself going to the toilet for several days and meant she had to eat biscuits and crisps in her room.

Richard Latham QC, prosecuting, said he had been violent and controlling to three previous partners between April 2007 and November last year.

He said Blakeley started a relationship with a 16-year-old in April 2007 before she became pregnant.

Mr Latham said: "When she was seven months pregnant he threw her down the stairs top to bottom.

"He threatened to stab her in the stomach to terminate the baby."

The day after the baby was born the jury heard Blakeley visited the hospital and started to wheel the cot away with the baby inside before the police were called.

A 17-year-old who cannot be named has admitted perverting the course of justice but denies preventing a lawful burial.

The trial continues.

Blaze erupts at Ewelme site

THE manager of Grundon Waste Management has apologised to nearby residents after a dramatic fire broke out at its Ewelme base over the weekend.

By Adam Flinn

At around 7pm on Saturday, a huge blaze started at the transfer station near Wallingford.

Police put a cordon in place during the fire, with residents in nearby Sonning Common and Nettlebed being advised to keep their windows and doors shut as a precaution.

It was extinguished by 11pm, with fire crews remaining at the site until 12noon the following day.

Grundon managing director Clayton Sullivan-Webb said: "We would like to thank all the emergency services staff who attended the fire for their constructive support and effective management of this incident.

"We would also like to apologise to any local residents who may have been inconvenienced by the smoke.

"This was mainly caused by burning plastic containers, solvent based paints, oily rags and aerosol cans.

"It was a relatively small fire which generated a lot of smoke.

"We can confirm no-one was injured during the fire, which was contained in the reception area of the transfer station.

"We will continue to work closely with the emergency services to confirm the cause of the fire and any necessary mitigation works on site."

The fire came just two hours after a strike by firefighters in Oxfordshire as part of a national dispute between the Fire Brigades Union and central government over pension reforms.

It is believed to have started as a result of the warm weather and sunlight causing waste grease and oily rags to spontaneously ignite.

Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service's station manager Bob Speakman said: "The incident highlights the importance of safe disposal of items such as oily rags.

"If stored in quantity in confined warm conditions, they have the potential to self-heat as they break down and ultimately can cause a fire to start."

Grundon Waste Management has said that regular services have not been affected and will continue as normal.

School read

ABINGDON: A local school is inviting residents to join in with reading of Michael Morpurgo's renowned novel 'Private Peaceful', as part of the town's First World War commemorations.

Our Lady's school has teamed up with Abingdon Library for the event, which will see readers submitting their reviews of the book to an online forum.

'Private Peaceful' is part of the library's Summer Reading Challenge, and follows the story of a young soldier on the frontlines during the Great War.

It was the idea of Barbara Hickford, librarian at Our Lady's Abingdon (OLA).

She said: "OLA has always had strong ties to the local community, and this year is a really important time for us all to remember everyone who suffered during the war."

To take part in the read, go to http://bit.ly/1qDNPYF.

Bus attacker

ABINGDON: CCTV pictures have been released of a man who punched a woman and assaulted an onlooker on a bus in Abingdon earlier this month.

At around 8.15pm on June 1, a member of the public intervened in an argument between the suspect and the woman on a bus travelling from Oxford to Grove.

Other passengers stopped the suspect, who was then ejected from the bus.

He was seen walking towards Abingdon town centre from Fairacres Retail Park afterwards.

Anyone with information is asked to contact police on 101, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Teenager sexually assaulted

AN 18-YEAR-OLD woman was sexually assaulted as she walked in St James' Cemetery, Cowley, last Friday night.

The victim was walking in the cemetery between Beauchamp Lane and Church Hill Road at around 11.30pm, when she was approached by two men.

One of the men grabbed the woman, while the second man sexually assaulted her.

The woman was treated at the John Radcliffe Hospital for a black eye and scratches to her face, and has since been discharged.

Investigating officer Det Con Gurinder Sangha of Force CID in Oxford said: "I would like to appeal to anyone who may have seen anything suspicious in the area to contact police.

"I would like to reassure local residents that incidents such as these are very rare in Oxford and the Thames Valley as a whole.

"Further, please be assured that the Force is conducting a thorough investigation into the offence."

There is currently no description available of the offenders.

Anyone with information is asked to call 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Date set for cooling towers demolition

THE date for the demolition of Didcot's southern cooling towers has been revealed, but the exact time of the blow-down still remains a mystery.

On Monday, energy company npower announced the three cooling towers to the south of the site would be demolished on Sunday, July 27.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

However, a specific time has not been revealed due to health and safety issues with npower only revealing that it will take place during the "early morning".

Spokeswoman Kelly Brown said npower "understand" the public interest in the demolition of the power station, which has been in Didcot for the past 42 years.

She said: "It is quite difficult because there will be road closures and parking restrictions and an exclusion zone as it is an industrial process.

"Within a minute they will be down and if things all go to plan we could open roads in less than an hour."

The date and time of the demolition was agreed among stakeholders, with the police, Health and Safety Executive, Network Rail and traffic management requesting it take place early on a Sunday morning.

Ms Brown added: "This is just the first milestone in the demolition of Didcot A power station but will be a significant change to the local landscape.

"We understand that the power station has been part of the local community for over 42 years and for many people the demolition of these first three cooling towers will mark a significant day for Didcot and Oxfordshire."

However, Didcot Town Council leader Eleanor Hards, said having the demolition during the early hours will mean it will be "quite an effort for people to get up".

She added: "People who are keen will make their way to wherever they think best.

"Npower are obviously keen to dampen everything down and I suppose that is partly for safety reasons.

"I think it is a shame that they haven't tried to engage people rather than stifle it."

The cooling towers have dominated the Didcot landscape for over 40 years. Cllr Hards added: "It will be a bit like losing a tooth, we will certainly be aware of the gap."

Gold Award

CROWMARSH GIFFORD: A garden design company based at Crowmarsh Gifford has won a prestigious Gold Award for its show garden at the Blenheim Palace Flower Show on Sunday.

GreenArt owner George Smith was presented with the award by TV presenter Monty Don for his flower-filled garden.

"We were delighted to be invited to create a show garden, and even more chuffed to win the Gold Award," said George.

Kitchen fire

BICESTER: A family escaped unharmed from a kitchen fire at their Lily Close home in the early hours of Sunday morning.

Fire crews extinguished the blaze, which was believed to have spread from the dishwasher.

Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service watch manager Robert Lewis said: "This incident shows the importance of having working smoke alarms on each floor of your property."

New sports shop

BOTLEY: SportsDirect.com's new shop at Seacourt Tower Retail Park opened yesterday.

The retailer already has two stores in the area, with one in Oxford's Westgate Shopping Centre and the other in Cowley Retail Park.

A spokesman for the company said: "We are delighted to be opening our new store in Oxford."

Wantage and Grove drug dealer behind bars

A DRUG dealer who covered Grove and Wantage has been jailed for more than four years.

Carl Skelton, of Tubbs Close, Grove, was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court last Thursday after pleading guilty to possession with intent to supply class A drugs.

The 25-year-old was given a sentence of four-and–a-half years behind bars and a two-year suspended sentence.

Police raided homes in Blenheim Gardens in Grove on January 25 and Tubbs Close, Grove, on May 29 and found large amounts of cocaine.

Local Policing Area Commander, Superintendent Andy Boyd, said: "This is an excellent result and a great deal of work has been done by officers to get this outcome.

"Skelton was twice found to be in possession with intent to supply class A drugs, and despite being charged for the first offence, he went on to offend for a second time.

"This long sentence should act as a reminder to potential offenders that we have zero tolerance approach to drugs offences and those who do offend will be dealt with robustly."

Skelton was charged on March 12 and May 29.

Duncan to take on a Tour stage for charity

A DIDCOT father who was diagnosed with a terminal brain tumour last year is set to take on the first stage of the Tour de France to raise awareness of the disease.

Duncan O'Reilly will be riding 120 miles between Leeds and Harrogate the day before the elite cyclists take on the course.

He is raising money for The Brain Tumour Charity after being diagnosed himself last July following a precautionary head scan when he fell off his bike.

At the time he was given just 12 months to live, although specialists later changed the initial estimate to between 10 and 15 years.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"I consider myself lucky in that my tumour was found unexpectedly. I had no symptoms and had no idea it was there," Duncan said.

"Now I can make the most of my life and live everyday to its fullest.

"Raising funds for research is a very personal and emotive goal for me, having been through radiotherapy, chemotherapy and two operations myself with another operation due just days after the challenge.

"I am really looking forward to taking part for such an important cause, but am not looking forward to some of the 25 per cent gradients I'll be facing – steeper than Streatley Hill!"

Duncan's wife Lucy added: "We're so proud of Duncan for taking on this challenge after everything he's been through in the past year."

He is hoping to raise £4,000 for The Brain Tumour Charity, and has so far nearly raised half of his target total.

Louise Taylor, the charity's director of fundraising, said: "We are extremely grateful for all the efforts made by our fantastic fundraisers.

"It's only through the efforts of people like Duncan that we can bring hope to the thousands of people are diagnosed with a brain tumour every year."

To contribute to Duncan's fundraising efforts, go to justgiving.com/Duncan-O-Reilly.

RAF officer helps train soldiers

AN OFFICER stationed at RAF Benson has been praised for organising the first international tri-service training exercise in Norway.

Flight Lieutenant Mark Garbett, 52, started planning Exercise Arctic Kite last October for troops from the Army and Royal Air Force.

Around 180 troops are currently at the Norwegian Air Force Base in Bardufoss, where they will carry out two weeks of training and undertake a variety of missions to develop their skills.

Personnel from 606 Squadron and No 28 Merlin Force from RAF Benson, as well as 2623 Squadron and 244 Signal Squadron from the Army, will be involved in the training.

"Overseas exercises are an integral part of our training," said Mark.

"We need to be able to work in various environments and respond quickly and efficiently to challenges across the globe."

Mark joined the RAF in 1978, and has served as an assessor for NATO in Explosives Ordinance Demolition to earn his long service and good conduct medal.

Man found dead

OXFORD: Police are currently investigating an unexplained death of a man in his 70s at a hotel in Botley Road, after being called to the building on Tuesday.

Officers attended the River Hotel at around 12.30pm after fears were raised for a man's welfare, before discovering the body.

The death is not thought to be suspicious, and the family of the deceased has been informed.

Top honours

OXFORD: Two Oxford businessmen were honoured in the Oxfordshire Business Awards in Sandford-on-Thames last Friday.

Andrew Hammond, managing director of Oxford Products Ltd, was named Business Person of the Year, while his company was also crowned as Business of the Year.

And Dave Fletcher, managing director of digital agency White October, was awarded Young Business Person of the Year.

This was the 20th running of the awards.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Josh Florey feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and Josh is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truthis that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Josh a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Solar power

OXFORD: More than 11,000 solar panels have been installed on the roof of the MINI plant's bodyshop in Cowley.

The panels cover the space of five football pitches, and are expected to generate enough power for 850 homes.

Oxford East MP Andrew Smith said: "It is a massive boost for renewable energy that one of the world's most successful car manufacturers is making this investment in greener energy here in Oxford."

Boatyard plans

OXFORD: A planning application for the redevelopment of Jericho boatyard has been submitted to Oxford City Council.

It shows plans for 22 residential units, a community centre, restaurant, public square, bridge and boatyard.

The proposal, submitted by Oxford City Council, is currently being considered by the council's planning officers.

A decision is due to be made by August 14.

Hospital abseil raises money

OXFORD: One hundred abseilers scaled down the 100-foot wall at the John Radcliffe Hospital this month.

The team raised £25,000 for their efforts descending the walls of the women's centre.

The money will go to hospital projects including the Blood Coagulation Research Fund, the Cancer Care Fund, the Pelvic Floor Fund, Injury Minimisation Programme for Schools, the JR's Special Care Baby Unit, and the Horton Hospital's F Ward in Banbury.

Consultant heart surgeon, George Krasolpoulos, abseiled along with supporters and staff from the Heart Centre.

Concerns raised on disability services

A REPORT released today has criticised services for people with learning disabilities in Oxfordshire for failing to meet their needs.

It comes following the death last year of 18-year-old Connor Sparrowhawk, who drowned in a bath after having a seizure.

He was a resident at a short-term treatment and assessment unit in Headington run by the Southern NHS Health Trust.

The report by Healthwatch Oxfordshire and the Oxford Family Support Network (OFSN) listed problems including the transition between children's and adult services and issues with giving families enough information about which services to use.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Plans to work on developing a peer-to-peer support network were recommended, and better communication with families.

Jan Sunman, project worker from OFSN, said: "Our purpose in writing this report was to give a voice to a very hidden group of families.

"It was to show how they struggle with fragile support systems that need to radically change in order that they and their relatives can have a basic quality of life that the rest of us take for granted.

"We are calling for significant improvements in the way that young people, like Connor, are supported.

"We would also like to explore the idea of families who have experienced such challenges being trained to support other families who are facing a similar situation."

Responding to the report, John Jackson, director of social and community services at Oxfordshire County Council, said: "We welcome this report by OFSN.

"We are keen to work with the network, as well as Healthwatch Oxfordshire, to take forward their ideas as part of the commissioning work we are doing over the summer.

"This will involve further discussions with families, carers, other organisations, and commissioners about improving services."

Lesley Munro, divisional director of the learning disability division at the Southern Health NHS Trust, said: "We welcome this report, and were very pleased to be able to provide a comment prior to publication. We will continue working with commissioners and relevant parties to deliver effective services."

Multi-million pound funding for roads

A COUNTY council cabinet member has welcomed £3.1m in government funding to help repair potholes in the country, but admitted they "wanted more".

David Nimmo Smith, cabinet member for environment, has said that the money will be used to repair damaged roads across Oxfordshire.

It comes as central government has given out £168m of grants to councils across England.

But Mr Nimmo Smith believes the money will only allow the council to repair roads to roughly the condition they were before, with only small improvements expected.

He said: "It's an opportunity to do a bit of future-proofing as well as general maintenance and bringing roads to a slightly better standard.

"But it's going to cost a lot more than £3.1m to bring the roads up to a standard people expect, which is motorway standard," he continued.

When asked how much was needed to bring Oxfordshire's roads up to a level the council wanted, Mr Nimmo Smith added: "We did a rough estimate, and we reckon £160m, just for Oxfordshire.

"To be honest, all the money that the government was making available for all of England, we reckon we could have done with all of it!"

University gives funds to community projects

FOUR community projects based in Oxfordshire have received grants of up to £2,500 as part of an Oxford University funding initiative.

The Osney Lock Hydro scheme, Oxfordshire Play Association, Alice's Day 2014 and Cowley News were selected for grants in the university's Community Fund.

The fund is a small community grants scheme that was set up by the university last year.

It has so far given money to groups including Oxford Open Doors, the Pegasus Theatre and Cowley Road Carnival, as well as the latest announcements.

A total of £2,500 was given to the development of the Osney Lock Hydro group, which is building Oxfordshire's first community hydro scheme in the Thames at Osney Lock.

Saskya Huggins, director of Osney Lock Hydro, said: "We are thrilled to have received a grant from Oxford University.

"As well as generating renewable energy, the project offers a platform from which we can tell the story of our river."

Alice's Day 2014, a project coordinated by the Story Museum, in Pembroke Street, has been awarded £2,000 towards the cost of its school workshops.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Staff member Alex Cole said: "Thanks to support from the Community Fund, over 200 Oxford primary school children will be breaking codes and meeting the Mad Hatter as part of the education work for Alice's Day."

The Oxfordshire Play Association were granted £1,500 towards the cost of a new 'natural play' area, to be created next to the South Oxford Adventure Playground.

Manager Martin Gillett said: "We want to encourage children and young people to play outside in natural settings.

"This will develop their health, wellbeing and life skills while also opening their eyes to the amazing world of mother nature and the environment."

Community newspaper Cowley News was also given £2,000.

Michael Sibly, chair of the Community Fund Management Group, said: "We want to help support the tremendous community activity that goes on."

Building 'could compete with the best'

AN OXFORD Brookes University teaching block could be going up against London's iconic building The Shard for a prestigious architecture prize later this year.

The John Henry Brookes Building was given a national award by the Royal Institute of British Architects (RIBA) last week – one of 56 buildings in Europe to get one.

And the university will now be hoping it makes the shortlist for the RIBA Stirling Prize for excellence in British architecture, with the winner being awarded £20,000.

Professor Janet Beer, vice-chancellor at Oxford Brookes University, said: "The John Henry Brookes building provides our students with inspirational spaces to match our excellent teaching, support and research."

The shortlist will be revealed on July 17.

Help for voles

OXON: The Berks, Bucks and Oxon Wildlife Trust (BBOWT) has launched a new appeal for funds to help protect water voles in the area.

While their numbers are declining nationally, Oxfordshire has seen an increase in water voles over the last few years, especially near the rivers.

Winning school

SUMMERTOWN: An Oxford school has been crowned the winner of a regional competition run by Young Enterprise UK.

Oxford High School won Young Enterprise Company of the Year with their company 'Toucan' at Dorney Lake last week.

They will now go on to represent the South East at the national finals on July 1 in London.

Theft arrests

SOUTH HINKSEY: Five men from Hemel Hempstead have been arrested after a car was stolen from Manor Road, South Hinksey, on June 15.

Three men aged 70, 31 and 54 were arrested on June 17 and bailed to August 13.

The other two, aged 30 and 29, were arrested three days later and bailed until August 20.

'Dedicated' anti-child exploitation team honoured

A JOINT team that was set up to tackle child sexual exploitation following the Operation Bullfinch case has been presented with a prestigious national award.

The Kingfisher team was chosen as the winner of the children's services award at a ceremony hosted by local government trade magazine Municipal Journal (MJ).

Around 20 people from Thames Valley Police and Oxfordshire County Council make up the team, which is based at Cowley police station.

They work closely with potential victims to investigate and detect crime, and were honoured at the MJ awards for being "an innovative and committed team".

Melinda Tilley, the county council's cabinet member for children, education and families, was pleased with the news.

She said: "The Kingfisher team involves staff from Thames Valley Police and Oxfordshire County Council's social care teams working closely together with social workers.

"Professionals from other agencies, including health, also have an important presence," she added.

"By working side by side in this way, Oxfordshire is well placed to combat and disrupt those who abuse and sexually exploit young people.

"They are dedicated professionals with a determination to protect young people.

"This award is due recognition for their efforts, and their work will continue."

The team was set up in November 2012, after investigations into the Bullfinch case had begun a year earlier.

Det Insp Laura MacInnes, from Thames Valley Police, said: "We are very pleased that the Kingfisher team has been recognised in winning this award.

She continued: "The strength of this team is in the co-location and the ability to share information with partners really quickly to achieve the best results for children."

The award comes as six men were arrested in Banbury on Tuesday in relation to information about child sexual exploitation gathered by the Kingfisher Team.

'Best achieving' Oxford City Council recognised for its improved performance

OXFORD City Council also received recognition at the MJ Awards, as it was named as the Best Achieving Council in the UK.

The authority was praised for its performance improvement, as it beat off competition from the highly commended Buckinghamshire County Council authority at the ceremony, held last week.

Bob Price, Labour party councillor and leader of the city council, said: "Winning this top award is a massive tribute to everyone who works for the council, and for our many partners.

"On behalf of all councillors, I would like to thank all the staff for their personal contribution to the achievement of the high quality services that we are delivering to the people of the city," he continued.

"The award reflects our achievements over the past few years – now we must build on those firm foundations and make Oxford an even better place to live and work."

Peter Solman, the council's chief executive, added: "Oxford City Council has won the most important award at the local government Oscars.

"Oxford is now seen as one of the best councils nationally, and I would like to thank everyone for their hard work in achieving this."

Last Thursday's ceremony was the 11th staging of the MJ awards, with previous winners for Best Achieving Council including Derby City Council, Sunderland City Council and London Borough of Harrow in recent years.

Scouts' party

OXFORD: Scouts in Littlemore are holding a fete on Saturday afternoon.

Games, stalls, stocks, a TaeKwonDo display, barbecue and refreshments will all be on offer at the 28th Littlemore Scout Hut, on Fairlie Road, from 1pm to 4pm.

Pub burglary

OXFORD: Cash and spirits were stolen from The Six Bells public house on Beaumont Road on June 15.

Between 4.15am and 5.20am an offender forced the ground floor window open and climbed into the pub.

Once inside, a fruit machine was forced open and cash was stolen, while more money and spirits were also taken.

Call 101 with details.

Run for charity

OXFORD: A charity supporting research into a rare genetic disease arrived in the city last Sunday after its members completed a 100-mile run.

David French, founder of the Niemann Pick Research Centre, along with his son's godfather Tim Wallis and scientists Paul Fineran and Allie Colaco, completed the run from Cardiff to Oxford University over four days.

Fireman going for first in charity race

AN OXFORD fireman and his team attempting to row across the Pacific Ocean were battling for the lead as the Guardian went to press.

Darren Taylor, 42, who lives in Charlbury, is part of the four-person team Battleborn, who are rowing from Monterey in California to Honolulu in Hawaii in the Great Pacific Race.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The crew started their journey on June 9, with the trip expected to take between six and eight weeks to complete.

Darren is taking part in the race to raise awareness for Young Onset Parkinson's Disease (YOPD), and is currently involved with the launch of new charity Spotlight YOPD.

He said: "An old school friend of mine, Alex Flynn, was diagnosed with YOPD in 2008 at the age of 36.

"The public don't seem to have a real understanding of what Parkinson's is and what a younger diagnosis means.

"There is some incredible research going on, not least by the Cure Parkinson's Trust. There could well be a cure in the next decade or so, and for those younger people with Parkinson's, they'll get their life and their future back.

"I think that's a good reason to row any ocean."

Darren had been due to complete the race with Alex as a pair, but funding problems meant they had to delay their attempt until next year.

It meant that Darren was an 11th hour entry to team Battleborn, teaming up with Irish skipper Philip Cavanagh, Wrexham's Barry Hayes and Australian Dan Kierath.

Battleborn sponsors The Athlete Centre is having a barbecue on Saturday at it's Oxford base, which will feature a live audio link up with Darren.

Money raised on Saturday will go to Spotlight YOPD and the Cure Parkinson's Trust. It is running from 11am to 2pm.

Appeal after taxi driver targeted in city robbery last week

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a taxi driver was robbed while he was parked in The Slade, Oxford, last Wednesday.

Two offenders approached the taxi at around 1.15am and threatened the 32-year-old driver with a knife, before stealing some money and fleeing in the direction of Leiden Road.

The victim sustained scratches to his face and hands in the incident.

The first suspect is white, in his early 20s, 5ft 8ins tall and of a skinny build with short blond hair and a tattoo on his neck.

And the second is white, 6ft tall, of stocky build and was wearing a dark hooded top and dark baseball cap.

PC Paul Jones from Oxford police station said: "Even though this incident happened early in the morning, it is possible that people may have seen or heard it.

"There are a lot of residential properties in the area and there would have been a lot of noise."

Anyone with information should contact 101, or alternatively call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Harry is new mock mayor at fifth try

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

• Harry Knight is carried along Ock Street after been crowned as mock mayor (Picture by Adam Flinn)

OCK Street has a new mayor after seven years, as Abingdon resident Harry Knight beat the incumbent Roger Cox by 95 votes to 67 on Saturday.

Dozens of people gathered outside the Brewery Tap pub for the result, which was announced by Abingdon's town mayor Angela Lawrence.

Harry was then carried aloft by members of the Abingdon Traditional Morris Dancers down Ock Street to celebrate his success.

Only residents and business owners living on or adjacent to Ock Street were allowed to vote for the mock mayor – a tradition that goes back hundreds of years in Abingdon.

This was the fifth time that Harry, 62, had stood for the mayorship, which had been held by Roger, 65, since 2007.

"I was very surprised," said Harry. "Roger was our mayor for seven years and I expected him to get back in again, so it came as a bit of a shock actually.

"Abingdon has a long tradition of mock mayors, and I've just been fortunate enough to be nominated.

"We've been carrying on this tradition for hundreds of years, and it's both an honour and a privilege to be chosen.

"Roger is a very popular man, and he will stand again next year, I have no doubt."

The mock mayor ceremony is organised by the Abingdon Morris each year, with a day of performances taking place throughout the town before the result was revealed.

Steven Green, assistant bagman with the Abingdon Morris, said: "Most people think it was one of the best mayor election days we've had in a long time.

"Roger's very good at being mayor, but it's quite nice to have a new one that might breathe a bit of freshness into it."

Traditionally, the mock mayor was elected to represent the poorer people living around Ock Street, and stand up to the real mayor for the rights of the 'common folk'.

The ceremony is held annually on the closest day to midsummer, with the mayor holding the title for a year at a time.

Rose marks agreement to keep reserve public

AN ANNUAL ceremony that ensures public access to the Earth Trust-owned Little Wittenham Nature Reserve was carried out last Friday.

Oxfordshire County Council chairman Anne Purse presented a rose to the Earth Trust's chair of trustees Robin Buxton to mark the agreement.

The Wittenham Rose ceremony dates back to 1970, and has been carried out every since as a celebration of the arrangement's success.

Back then, the ceremony took place between Berkshire County Council and the trustees of the Hedges Estate, who owned the land at that time.

"I think it's a lovely ceremony, and am enormously honoured [to be a part of it]," said Cllr Purse.

"To be able to come and cement that pact that gives people access to some of the nicest countryside in what is now Oxfordshire, what could be a nicer way of spending a day."

Drugs raids at Witney homes sees arrests

WITNEY: Police executed two drug raids in the town last Thursday.

The first warrant took place at Weavers Close, where a 41-year-old man was arrested on suspicion of possession with intent to supply controlled drugs, before being released without charge.

A second warrant was carried out at Wyttanige Court, where officers found what is thought to be class A drugs.

Three men, aged 39, 33 and 20, were arrested and released on bail until August 6.

Investigating officer Det ective Constable Adrian Brooksbank said: "The use and supply of controlled drugs will not be tolerated.

"We will work with the communities to ensure that those people who use the area to commit drugs related offending will be dealt with robustly."

Anglo-Saxon brooch to tour county schools

WEST HANNEY: A replica of a seventh century Anglo-Saxon brooch discovered in West Hanney in 2009 is set to tour the county.

Local silversmith Virginia Tate was commissioned to recreate the brooch, will tour schools and groups across Oxfordshire.

The 'Hanney brooch' was discovered with the skeleton of a woman in her mid-20s, and has been on display at the Oxfordshire Museum in Woodstock.

Abandoned foal nursed to health after rescue

A HORSE that made a miraculous recovery after being found starving and infested with lice in a Banbury field is looking for a new home.

Nine-month-old Magpie was discovered by RSPCA officers in March last year, and was in such a poor state of health that vets feared she would not survive.

But after six months of treatment, Magpie is now fully healthy, and the RSPCA are now looking to find her a new family.

"Even though Magpie was found collapsed and emaciated, she had a will for life and fought with all she had," said Claudia Corner, equine rehoming officer with the RSPCA.

"She made it and is now back to full health, and is looking for her forever home.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"Magpie has gained in confidence since being in RSPCA care and is showing herself to be a loving and kind pony.

"She has fought against all the odds to be able to continue her life, and is a stunning mare with real presence."

RSPCA inspector Doug Davidson said: "Magpie was so emaciated she was in a state of collapse, and was literally at death's door.

"She was put on a drip to rehydrate her and fed little and often to gradually build her back up, and it took her six months and a lot of love and care to recover.

"She's had an appalling start to her short life but now she's the picture of health, and is looking for a new home."

Magpie was discovered alongside a pregnant mare named Dazzle, who also survived and gave birth to a healthy filly.

Dazzle was found to have been stolen from her owner six years before, and the pair were reunited along with the new foal.

Magpie is currently being cared for by a fosterer near Nottingham. To find out more or to offer her a home, call 0300 123 8877 or email horsesandponies@rspca.org.uk.

Boost for multi-sports club

DISABILITY sports in West Oxfordshire are set to benefit from £70,000 of National Lottery funding, it has been announced.

The grant was awarded to West Oxfordshire District Council, and will be used to develop a three-year inclusive sports programme for 14 to 25-year-olds.

It comes following the success of several groups for people with disabilities operating in the district, including the multi-sports club at Witney's Windrush Leisure Centre.

George Hiley, 14, has been attending the club for several months, and is one of the highlights of his week according to his mum Sarah.

"Sport is his passion," she said. "He is a member of Witney Wolves, plays cricket, goes horse riding and does lots more.

"These are wonderful opportunities for him to do something on his own with other young people."

The funding will help in the council's work with local clubs to make them more inclusive.

Richard Langridge, the council's cabinet member responsible for leisure and communities, said: "Improving sports provision for people with disabilities is something very close to my heart."

Councils apply

WEST OXON: Almost every parish and town council eligible for funding support to purchase defibrillators has applied, according to West Oxfordshire District Council (WODC).

WODC has offered to fund 50 per cent of the cost, up to £900, to help communities buy their own defibrillator.

Applications for funding are now being processed.

Greener ways

BURFORD: Recycling boxes for each classroom have been given to Burford School by the district council, to help reduce being sent to landfill.

The scheme has been running since the start of May, with around 100 boxes being made available for pupils and staff to use.

Club burgled

BLETCHINGDON: Thieves have stolen golf equipment, a television, cash, food and alcohol from Heathfield Golf Range near Bletchingdon.

Offenders broke into the coffee shop at the range between 8pm on June 15 and 10am on June 16.

The range is known for having football pundit Chris Kamara as one of its partners. Witnesses should call police on 101.

Garden party

A GARDEN party raising money for the Red Cross and local churches is being held at Court House, in Toot Baldon, on Sunday.

Cream teas, coffee and refreshments will be served, and visitors can also browse a small selection of stalls and look round the garden.

It is running from 2pm to 5pm.

Parquet Courts

AMERICAN indie rock band Parquet Courts come to Oxford's O2 Academy this evening, following the release of their third album 'Sunbathing Animal'.

Singers and guitarists Andrew Savage and Austin Brown, bass player Sean Yeaton and drummer Max Savage have received critical acclaim for their music.

Doors open at 7pm.

Blithe Spirit

AN evening of comedy and theatre set at a 1920s dinner party comes to the Old Fire Station in Oxford from today.

Blithe Spirit tells the story of Charles Condomine, who is stuck between two married women who are both used to getting their own way.

It runs until Saturday, and more information can be found at oldfirestation.org.uk.

Dawn's 30 Million Minutes

ACTRESS and comedian Dawn French discusses her life and career in her first ever solo tour, coming to Oxford's New Theatre next Thursday.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Dawn is well known for her performances as one half of French and Saunders and for playing Geraldine Granger in The Vicar of Dibley, in what has been an extensive and varied career.

And she describes her tour '30 Million Minutes' as a monologue of her life, rather than a stand-up show or a play.

"It's a slide show to an extent, but not just a slide show," said Dawn. "It's not like your awful, most feared auntie who's just come back from Egypt where you have to sit and watch everything.

"It's quite autobiographical, so I show you the people that have made me, so to speak.

"There's quite a lot about my mum and dad."

The show is called '30 Million Minutes' because that is roughly how long Dawn has lived for.

It begins with Dawn talking about life growing up in Cornwall, her father's suicide when she was 18, before starting stage school and meeting double-act partner Jennifer Saunders.

Dawn has worked with director Michael Grandage to create the show, who she has been wanting to work with for many years.

"I could have asked Fatty Saunders, but I thought, 'I'm actually going to ask a proper grown-up theatre person," Dawn added.

"But I've always wanted to do this and I think I've dodged it a bit, because I'm aware that it's a risk.

"I keep saying to Michael, 'I need to take this out', and he says 'absolutely not, do not push it away from you. Own it and be confident about that', so that's what I've done."

Dawn's show starts at 7.30pm. For booking details, go to newtheatreoxford.org.uk.

Dancing with Angelina

ANGELINA Ballerina pirouettes onto the Oxford New Theatre stage next week, with a brand new stage show written and performed especially for children.

Full of music and singing, The Mousical sees Angelina and her friends given the chance to appear in their favourite television programme 'Dancing With Mice'.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

But they struggle to decide what to perform as everyone has a mix of ideas for the show, and it's up to Angelina to make sure that everything goes ahead smoothly.

"The response has been brilliant," said Miranda Larson, writer and director of the show.

"Most importantly for me is what the children think of it, and I'm always amazed that children manage to dance in the aisles while following the story.

"I think we're all really proud of what it's achieved so far, and hopefully we will achieve a bit more yet."

The stage show is based off the latest Angelina Ballerina television series, although it still draws inspiration from the books as well.

Angelina has proven popular since she was first created by author Katharine Holabird in the 1980s, with the latest series of the television show featuring 40 episodes.

Speaking about the show's popularity, Miranda added: "The age of the characters on screen is seven-years-old, so for that younger audience, it's aspirational but at the same time going through things the children go through.

"But in the backdrop of that, it's also about expressing yourself, hard work, and having a go.

"This show's not just ballet either, we've got a lot of contemporary styles as well, including jazz, tap and hip hop as well as the ballet.

"We always invite the audience to get up and dance along with the cast, and just have fun really."

The first show is at 4.30pm on Monday, with three further performances on Tuesday. For more details or to book tickets, go to newtheatreoxford.org.uk.

Flamenco show

CAMINO Del Flamenco, the largest Flamenco school in the UK, hold their sixth annual show at Didcot's Cornerstone theatre on Saturday.

More than 70 dancers will take to the stage, performing to the music of Spanish artists Ramon Ruiz and Javier Macias Vasquez.

It starts at 6.30pm, and tickets can be booked at cornerstone-arts.org.

See What I See

SHAKESPEARE'S most memorable scenes and characters are presented in See What I See, coming to the Oxford Playhouse tomorrow and Saturday.

The production will be accompanied by a workshop run by the show's artistic director Owen Horsley, teaching participants about acting and movement exercises.

Both shows start at 7.30pm.

Kiss Me, Figaro!

THE Merry Opera Company return to Henley's Kenton Theatre with their new show Kiss Me, Figaro!, being performed on Saturday.

Set backstage at the opera, the show is a romantic comedy that tells the tale of life with a touring company, and relationships between them.

ANHSO - OCEAN CIRCULATION AND CLIMATE - DR RENSKE GELDERLOOS
"The ocean plays a very important role in the Earth's climate system through storage and transport of heat, fresh water, and carbon. Dr Gelderloos will discuss the principle ocean circulation patterns and how they affect well known climatic phenomena such as El Niño and the hydrological cycle. Furthermore, as increasing greenhouse gas concentrations in the atmosphere affect the circulation in the ocean, this will feed back onto the climate system. Based on what we know about how the oceans affect the Earth's climate, what changes may we expect? Dr Gelderloos is a physical oceanographer interested in subpolar and polar oceans. After specializing in fluid dynamics during a BSc and MSc in Civil Engineering at the University of Twente (Netherlands), she studied deep water formation in the Labrador Sea at KNMI/University of Utrecht for her PhD. publicity@anhso.org.uk http://www.anhso.org.uk/

Soul EV joins a host of models to win top environmental certificate

New Kia impresses at awards

THE all-new Kia Soul EV has proved to be a big hit, as the latest member of the Kia family has achieved a whole-life environmental certificate.

The TÜV (Technischer Überwachungs-Verein or the Technical Inspection Association) were impressed with the safety features of the car, which is to prevent humans and the environment from potential hazards.

The Soul EV now joins a list of Kia models to have the certificate, bringing the number of models to 11, since its first LCA award back in 2008 to the Cee'd.

The latest Kia model, achieved the award due to its environmental friendly use of materials, tailpipe emissions and recycling.

When comparing the make to it's diesel counterpart (which is currently on sale in some European countries), the all-new electric car scored impressively on its 'Global Warming Potential', emitting 39.7 per cent fewer greenhouse gases, such as carbon dioxide and methane, over the whole life of the vehicle.

The Korean manufacturers have been known to produce many cars that will benefit the environment, with every single Kia product since 2006 being made to suit the LCA (Life Cycle Assessment) standards. Hence, why 11 of their models have won this award in the last six years.

This more environmentally friendly development process covers five major steps:

- Detailed physical analysis of the product during the development process to verify recyclability
- Streamlining of the manufacturing process through improvements in use of materials and simplification of parts design
- Use of eco-friendly materials
- Utilisation of 3D drawings at the design stage to verify recyclability
- Application of a check-sheet to evaluate the vehicle's environmental credentials throughout its lifecycle

The Soul EV, which has already been released in its native Korea, will be released in the UK later on this year. This car will also make American history, as it will be the first ever car all-electric vehicle by Kia to be used in the United States when it is released in August.

• The new Kia Soul EV has been awarded a whole-life environmental certificate

†Finance plan is only available to customers aged 18 years and over, subject to status through Finance Mitsubishi, 116 Cockfosters Rd, Barnet, EN4 0DY. Indemnities may be required. Finance Mitsubishi is part of Lloyds Bank Asset Finance. Your regular monthly repayments are low because it is the nature of a PCP product that a significant proportion of the amount of credit/charges are payable at the end of the contract by one large final repayment. The finance plan figures are based upon a max permitted annual mileage of 10,000, excess mileage is charged at 9p per mile. The Guaranteed Future Value (GFV) is subject to condition and mileage payable unless you choose to exercise your Goods Return Option, in which case it is subject to the vehicle being returned on time, in good condition (fair wear and tear accepted), within the permitted max mileage and all payments having been made. Offer is only applicable in the UK (excludes NI, CI & I.O.M) and may be amended or withdrawn at any time. Offer available between 1st April to 30th June 2014. Finance Mitsubishi is part of Lloyds Bank Asset Finance. Indemnities may be required. Over 65mpg achieved on all Mirage models. Combined range fuel consumption from 65.7mpg to 68.9mpg. Fuel figures shown are official EU test figures, to be used as a guide for comparative purposes and may not reflect real driving results. Model portrayed for illustration purposes only.

Mirage range fuel consumption in mpg (ltrs/100km): Urban 56.5 – 61.4 (5.0 – 4.6), Extra Urban 72.4 – 78.5 (3.9 – 3.6), Combined 65.7 – 68.9 (4.3 – 4.1), CO2 Emissions 100 – 95g/km.

Sixth for Welsh at World Club 10s

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

LONDON Welsh's week in Singapore ended with a sixth-place finish at the inaugural World Club 10s, with two wins and four defeats.

Welsh were the sole English representatives in the eight-team competition, which also included French squad Biarritz Olympique and eventual tournament winners The Blues from New Zealand.

Day one of the competition on Saturday got off to the worst possible start for Welsh, as they were thrashed 26-0 by Samoa Water President 10.

They recovered well to beat Biarritz 26-5 in their second match, before a 27-7 loss to The Blues meant The Exiles finished third in Pool A.

This set up a quarter final clash with South Pacific side The Dragons on Sunday, but Welsh were beaten 43-12.

Losing quarter-finalists then faced each other for the Plate, with Welsh winning their semi-final fixture against Italy's Petrarca Rugby, for a rematch with Samoa Water President in the final.

But despite a better showing it was not to be for Welsh, as they lost 28-14 for a sixth-place finish.

Back row forward Ollie Stedman said: "We started our first Pool A game against Samoa, who were as strong and physical as ever.

"The score line flattered them ever so slightly but it definitely was an eye-opener for the boys as to what the standard would be and how we would get punished for not keeping the ball.

"It was a vastly improved performance [against Biarritz] by us, allowing the ball to do the work and it ended up in a convincing and satisfying win."

Ahead of the Plate final, Stedman revealed that four players pulled up sick or injured – "not ideal", according to the 23-year-old.

"In typical London Welsh fashion we made do with only two subs and dug in," Stedman said. "Fatigue perhaps played a key part in running out of steam. However, the boys have given a great account of themselves.

"I personally feel it's a great thing to get London Welsh on the global map."

• London Welsh captain James Lewis (second right) lines up alongside fellow captains

Burnell adds to Exiles' squad

FORMER England under-20 hooker Koree Britton and experienced centre Tim Molenaar have been named as the latest signings to join London Welsh.

Britton was a member of the side which won the 2011 Six Nations Grand Slam and the 2012 Six Nations title at under-20 level, also featuring in the Junior World Cups of the same years.

The 22-year-old ended last season with Northampton Saints, where he made one Premiership appearance as a replacement in their 74-13 win over London Wasps.

And Molenaar, 33, joins Welsh from Harlequins, making 19 appearances for the side last season.

He was part of the Gloucester squad that lifted the LV= Cup in 2011 and reached the Premiership play-offs in 2010/11.

Exiles' head coach Justin Burnell said: "Koree will add some serious competition to an already talented group of hookers.

"He brings Premiership experience and has the size and physicality we are looking for in building our squad of forwards," he continued.

"Tim is another player with a lot of Premiership experience that we had targeted.

"He will provide a physicality that will complement our other centres and give us various combinations in the midfield."

Bronze for Katie at World Rowing Cup

OXFORD rower Katie Greves secured a bronze at the World Rowing Cup II in France last weekend, as the GB team finished top of the medal table.

Greves was part of the women's eight that took silver in Belgrade at the European Rowing Championships earlier this year.

She kept her seat for the weekend at Aiguebelette, alongside Rosamund Bradbury, Zoe Lee, Donna Etiebet, Jess Eddie, Caragh McMurty and cox Zoe de Toledo.

They got off to a strong start and battled with China throughout the race for third position, eventually beating them by just over a tenth of a second.

"We were very pleased to get a good start but perhaps our rhythm wasn't as good as in Belgrade," said Greves.

"It's a bit frustrating as we know that we can do better than that in the middle of the race."

Fellow Oxford rower Frances Houghton had a tougher time at the competition, as she and double sculls partner Vicky Thornley could only finish fifth.

At the halfway stage they had been sitting fourth and challenging for the bronze medal position, before dropping back as the final sprint moved away.

And another city rower, Olivia Carnegie-Brown, also came home fifth with partner Monica Relph in their B final of the pairs, finishing 16 seconds behind winners New Zealand.

GB Rowing Team performance director Sir David Tanner said: "Our rowers have really stepped up for the finals day.

"There were some really impressive medals showing how savvy our team is."

Missed the cut

ABINGDON golfer Eddie Pepperell had a disappointing Irish Open last week, as he missed the cut to finish in a tie for 112th.

Rounds of 72 and 74 left Pepperell four over par for the tournament, four shots off what was needed to make the weekend's play.

It comes after Pepperell equalled his best result on the European Tour earlier this month at the Nordea Masters, where he finished in a tie for sixth.

Another loss

OXFORD Rugby League lost a fifth consecutive match on Sunday, as they were defeated 36-20 away to University of Gloucester All Golds.

The results puts Oxford second bottom in the standings with 13 points, level with London Skolars who have a game in hand.

They will be hoping for a return to winning ways when they host Oldham this Sunday.

Barcelos back

FORMER Oxford City striker Felipe Barcelos has rejoined the club, after a spell at Italian Serie D side ASD Santhià Calcio.

Barcelos made 125 appearances and scored 42 goals for City over five years, before leaving for Italy 12 months ago.

City have also announced their first four friendlies, as they face Oxford United at home on July 15, before trips to Wantage Town, Didcot Town and Chippenham Town on July 19, 22 and 26 respectively.

Plato is hoping for a strong result at Croft

OXFORD-BASED racing driver Jason Plato will be hoping to get back into title contention, as the British Touring Car Championship (BTCC) heads to Croft this weekend.

Plato is currently fourth in the standings, 36 points behind series leader Colin Turkington.

After a promising start to the year which saw a win and three podiums in the first six races, Plato's performance has tailed off, with just one top-three result since.

But Plato is optimistic he can turn his fortunes around in North Yorkshire, where he traditionally gets a lot of support after growing up in nearby Newcastle.

"I think we stand a good chance this weekend," said Plato. "I've been lucky to get good support there in the past.

"It's great to see so many fans at any race, but at Croft they turn up in their tens of thousands.

"It has historically been a good stomping ground for the rear wheel drive cars, but with Turkington on maximum ballast, that could level things."

New intake of scholars for U's

EIGHT Oxford United scholars reported for their first day of training earlier this week, as they hope to break into the professional ranks.

Centre-back Cian McCormack, midfielders Seth Humphries and Kieran Andrews, and forwards George Jeacock and Luke Hastings have made the step up from last season's under-16s.

And defender Drew Ricketts joins from Walsall, while right-back Miles Welch-Hayes and midfielder Lewis Hayden were given the opportunity after impressing in the under-17 Academy side.

They join second year scholars Eddie Cavanagh, Freddie Grant, Robbie Cundy, AJ George and Muctaru Conte in the squad for this season.

"It's an exciting day for all of them," said youth team coach Chris Allen. "They are within touching distance of being professional footballers but now they have to work harder than ever before to impress us.

"It's about ability and desire but also attitude, intelligence and having that bit of self-belief to push on.

"Every single one of them now has a wonderful opportunity to make their dreams come true and become professional footballers."

MotoGP's Smith wants to put bad luck behind him

BRADLEY Smith will be hoping for better performance this weekend, as he heads to the Netherlands for round eight of the MotoGP championship at Assen.

Smith has only been able to record a best finish of 10th in the last three races, and has dropped to 10th in the championship standings.

This is despite a promising start to the season, which saw Smith running in the lead of the first race at Qatar, and coming fifth at the Circuit of the Americas in Texas.

But he will be hopeful of a strong race, after coming second at a mid-season test at Catalunya following the last race.

"It's safe to say that the past five rounds really haven't been how I would have imagined them," said Smith.

"My lack of luck in the past races has made things challenging, but I am certain my fortunes will turn around this week in Assen.

"I aim to fully ensure that we have a positive weekend, especially in front of the Dutch and English fans who are brilliant and truly love our sport coming to their country."

DIDCOT BEGIN PREPARATIONS

Concannon and Heapy focused ahead of pre-season training

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

DIDCOT Town begin pre-season training this evening in preparation for the new Division One South & West season.

And joint manager Ian Concannon (right) has warned his players that it will be difficult, yet enjoyable, as Diddy hope to begin their campaign in the same manner they ended the last.

The Railwaymen finished their 2013/14 season by winning seven of the last nine matches, with Concannon and Jamie Heapy turning the club's fortunes around after a poor start to the season.

Ahead of the new campaign, Concannon is now focused on making sure his players are ready for the first league game on August 9.

"A lot of people's perception of pre-season training is lots of long distance running, but it is not like that," he said.

"Everything has a structure and there is a purpose to it.

"We will be concentrating on certain areas of fitness and it will be difficult, but it will be enjoyable.

"There will be plenty of footballs in use but by the end of pre-season, ready for August 9, the boys will be fit, that is one assurance I will give."

Didcot's first pre-season game is on July 7 when they welcome Conference side Eastleigh to Loop Meadow.

The Spitfires have former Oxford United trio James Constable, Jack Midson and Yemi Odubade in their ranks.

Concannon added: "Pre-season is something the players have got to do and something some of them might not be looking forward to, but if you want to play at a decent standard you have got to be fit.

"We have only got five sessions until our first game so it is vital that the players knuckle down and work hard and be ready as best they can for Eastleigh."

The momentum gained at the end of last season is certainly something Concannon wants to see during pre-season.

"We never wanted it to end, especially with the way we were playing," he said.

"We will look to carry it into training and pre-season games. We want to hit the ground running."
